

CLYDE FRANCIS LUY

I am a senior Information Technology student with a keen focus on IoT projects, particularly demonstrating proficiency in utilizing C++ for Arduino-based applications. My expertise extends to graphic design, where I've honed my creative skills to bring visual aspects to life. My proficiency in project management is complemented by a hands-on approach to IoT and a flair for graphic design, enabling me to blend technical prowess with creative solutions. This unique skill set positions me as a versatile professional capable of navigating the intersection of technology, creativity, and effective project leadership.
